DRAMA

Juan Francisco Rodriguez - ARGENTINA

1

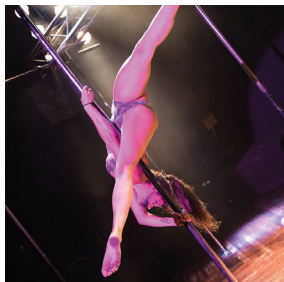

Juan ran away from home when he was 10 years old. His mother was an alcoholic and his step-father used to beat him up. He's been living on the streets for a few years now, amongst pieces of cardboard and rubbish. During the daytime he dances for money, or simply sits still, shaking a tin in his hand saying «spare some change for food». To passers by, Juan seems like part of the furniture, but he could be your brother, your father or your son. This is a tribute to all the Juans who every day fight to survive

Amaryllis Koukoulrou - GREECE

2

She ... She took everything away from me ... Took everything i've ever loved, now she will suffer a great pain, and agony. I must go now my friends ... I must get my doll ready, disciples of flesh, prepare the coming curse ! ...

M. Moulin & Lucie Beret
FRANCE

3

In an African village, deep in the jungle, two Shaman sisters are called to remove the spell thrown on the village's chief and save the tribe. Then begins a frantic trance to invoke the Gods. The Shamans will exhaust all their energy until they feel the blow of the Gods fall on the village to issue it.

Tania Mussi - SWITZERLAND

My story is the one of a woman who discovers drugs, seeing her performances improving, she keeps on doing it, more and more and falls in this vicious circle that makes her addicted ...
And she will die ...

Anna Green Mango - RUSSIA

5

This is the story of a female-warrior fighting for freedom. Her path is not easy and she is going through struggles. When she is injured and nearly dead, she does not give up and keeps believing in herself, so the Divine Power helps her to recover and stand up again, so she defeats the enemies and able to rise and fly again. After all, she does not forget who she is what she has done.

Amandine Parin - FRANCE 1

This story is about a woman living at an age where the expression of femininity is banned by society. But a legend says that a secret elixir can awake the inner light of each woman.

Coco Noix'd'Coco

Calisto is a forest nymph, she was cheated on and betrayed, she doesn't believe in love anymore and lost her mind. She seduces men who are passing by the forest, where they will never come back from.

It's the story of Jeanine and Huguette (80 and 82 years old), living in a retirement home in their village. Their supervisor leaves for a couple of minutes and they decide to escape the home. Walker and cane in hands, they will enjoy their minutes of freedom to remember their youth and the time when they were pole dancers. All their adventure will be told with sound effects, noises and funny scenes. Their adventure will last the time of the routine, and then security will found them,

DRAMA

Chiara Salvade - ITALY

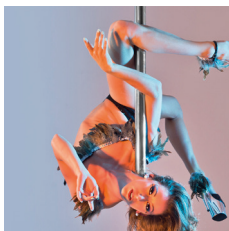

1

This is a story about a man with the problem of being born in a body he doesn't recognize as his own. My performance talks about gender identity.. The difficulty of acceptance and accepting yourself, the never ending internal fight and frustration of not feeling who you are in your own body. Then the transformation becoming who you've always wanted to be finding pure joy in living as you've always wanted and felt like it.

Lydia Roess - FRANCE

2

My story talks about an alien who accidentally lands on Earth. It discovers a strange world mixed with cruelty and sensitivity, all of this in the form of music accents that it can feel. This creature realises that she's very different from those humans, what makes her escape and try to hide to find a way to go back home as soon as possible.

Lauriane Fourcade - FRANCE

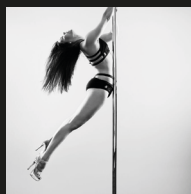

3

Once upon a Time in a far remote country there was a young gipsy girl promised to an old mysterious And violent man she desperately tries to escape the wedding day in vain .this pièce is here to denounce all the forced married women in the world who are victims of Their husband sexual violence .

Ekaterina Dipman - DENMARK

4

A young woman who just got out of a relationship. She still loves her ex boyfriend and seeks answers why the relationship ended. She admits that she has made some mistakes and wants him back. Maybe if she screams the magic words, «Je t'aime», he will come back to her. The story ends happily because he hears her calling and comes after her.

Jenni Multisilta - FINLAND

I was diagnosed with type 1 Diabetes when I was 16. It is a disease that forces you to control everything in your life, yet it still can never be in 100% control. It has made my life feel like a roller coaster – one moment you're feeling almost like a normal, healthy person, but the next you are lying on a floor, feeling so weak that you think you are dying. It affects everything I do, and I have always hated it. There has been times when I have ignored taking care of myself because I have been so angry, tired, and full of hate. I have felt like being in a battle
